Importance of Shot Placement

You've been planning for this trip your entire life, you've invested in all the right gear and your aim is true. That's only half of the battle. Not only must you be able to hit what you are aiming at, but you must aim at the right part of the animal without hesitation, from virtually any angle and in all lighting conditions.

Shot placement is a critical part of hunting. It is your responsibility to ensure you do everything possible to make a quick and ethical kill. Alternatively, poor shot placement will result in a stressful and sometimes life-threatening environment. And will definitely result in a very long day in the hot African bush!

Taking the time to study shot placement before you arrive at your hunting destination.

This will contribute to your enjoyment of the whole experience.

ONE LAST KUDU HUNT...

THERE IS SOMETHING SPECIAL ABOUT HUNTING KUDU. AND THIS WAS JUST THE CASE. WE WERE HUNTING A SPECIFIC WATERING HOLE FOR A FEW DAYS NOW WHEN FINALLY, THIS BULL STEPPED OUT. WE IMMEDIATELY KNEW HE WAS A SHOOTER. HE MADE IT HARD, NEVER REALLY GETTING INTO BOW RANGE AND WHEN HE DID, WE DIDN'T HAVE A CLEAR SHOT.

FINALLY, HE GAVE US A SMALL WINDOW. THE HIT LOOKED GOOD, MAYBE A TAD BACK SO WE GAVE HIM SOME TIME AND GOT THE TRACKING DOG READY. WHEN WE TOOK LADY (TRACKING DOG) OFF LEASH IT WASN'T LONG BEFORE SHE WAS ON HIM. SHE WAS ABLE TO TURN THE BULL AND BROUGHT HIM STRAIGHT BACK TO US. SHE CORNERED THE BULL IN THE SAME WATERING HOLE WE WERE HUNTING. MICHAEL WAS ABLE TO GET IN A SECOND SHOT AND IT WAS ALL OVER AND WITH LADY DOING WHAT SHE HAS DONE SO MANY TIMES BEFORE.

SADLY, THE NEXT DAY SHE WAS FATALLY INJURED IN A BUSHBUCK HUNT, BUT NOT BEFORE SAVING THE HUNTER AS THE BUSHBUCK CHARGED.

YOU WILL NEVER BE FORGOTTEN. IT WAS TRULY SPECIAL FOR YOU TO HAVE BEEN PART OF THIS HUNT.

LADY THE BEST TRACKING AND HUNTING PARTNER WE HAVE EVER HAD.
